Hide Course Section Downstream Impact

Course Section Status	Registered Students	Impact on Registered Students	Impact on Unregistered Students	Limitations
Preliminary	N/A	None • students cannot be registered in course sections in preliminary status	None • Students cannot see courses in preliminary status • Students cannot be registered by an administrator in course section in preliminary status.
Open/Waitlist/ Closed/Cancelled	No	None	• Students who have the course section on their saved schedule will continue to see the course section on the saved schedule. If the student accesses the course section page, they will see a troubleshoot button that will not explain the issue. • Students who don't have the course section on their saved schedule will not see the course section • Students cannot register in a hidden course section. • Staff are able to register students in a hidden course section using the "Register Student for Course" task.	Hiding a course section when there are students registered in may cause confusion as the hidden course sections will still be visible to some students. Workday does not explain why students cannot register for the course section.
Open/Waitlist/ Closed/Cancelled	Yes	• The course section will appear on the student's list of registered courses & saved schedule • Students can still access the course section details • Students are able to drop a course section that is hidden.	• Students who have the course section on their saved schedule will continue to see the course section on the saved schedule. If the student accesses the course section page, they will see a troubleshoot button that will not explain the issue. • Students who don't have the course section on their saved schedule will not see the course section • Students cannot register in a hidden course section. • Staff are able to register students in a hidden course section using the "Register Student for Course" task.	Hiding a course section when there are students registered in it may cause confusion because the hidden course sections will still be visible to some students through their list of registered courses. If a student has the course section on a saved schedule, they will be unable to register but Workday doesn't explain why they cannot register for the course section.